

1300cc Stock Car Rule Update – Roll Cages

With immediate effect we would like all 1300cc Stock Cars to put these extra tubes in your roll cages if they are not in place already.

The material must be the same material as your roll cage is currently made of.

This is after we have had a couple of cars having the tube ripped off the iron work.

This will be an ongoing concern for us and the scrutineers to be monitoring for your safety.

Please find included pictures to show how the additional tubes should be added.
